

First Nation and Community Members Can Apply for Free Registration at 38th Annual BC Mine Reclamation Symposium

Prince George, B.C. - September 22 - 25, 2014

First Nation and community members actively participating in the review of reclamation at a proposed, operating or closed mine are invited to apply for free registration to the British Columbia Reclamation Symposium. Attendance at the symposium is a great opportunity to:

- gain an appreciation of materials, methods and different approaches used in mine reclamation,
- gain an appreciation of advancements in practices, techniques and standards that apply to the understanding and prediction of mine related impacts,
- learn about different types of work conducted during all phases of mine life and differences between the various mines types,
- meet practitioners and
- see examples of successful work.

Free registration will allow participation in courses, the Pinchi field trip, sponsored social events and technical paper sessions.

Persons wishing to apply for free registration should send an e-mail indicating their name, affiliation and contact information with a brief description of their participation in the review of reclamation at a proposed, operating or closed mine to: Bill Price at bprice@nrcan.gc.ca. Do not delay. Participation in workshop and field tour is space permitting.

Agenda for 2014 British Columbia Annual Mine Reclamation Symposium:

Monday, September 22: Workshop – Soil Covers (Limited to ~100 participants)

Monday, September 22: Symposium Registration / Welcome Reception

Tuesday September 23: Pinchi Mine Tour (Limited to ~220 participants)

Wednesday, September 24: Day 1 Technical Session

Wednesday, September 24: Reclamation Awards Banquet

Thursday, September 25: Day 2 Technical Session

Wednesday, September 24 & Thursday, September 25 Supplier and Consultants Displays

Please check the TRCR website www.trcr.bc.ca for periodic updates, program details, accommodation and registration information.